The courthouse grounds are large and situated in a destrable part of town and only a short distance from Main street.

A timely discovery of fire in the home of W. M. Adair in West Las Cruces yesterday afternoon probably saved the bullding from destruction. One of the sons, Arthur, opened a closet door and found a pile of bed cothes smoldering. How they became ignited is a question the family is unable to solve. A year ago Mr. Adair suffered the loss of a large store building by fire. Later he built a store building not on the old site, but on the corner of Griggs street and Brownies avenue, where he continues in business.
